

What is a Global Ethic and what is it not?

A Global Ethic IS:

- A basic consensus about binding values, standards, and rules for human behaviour.
- Affirmed by all philosophies and religions.
- Upheld by believers and unbelievers.

A Global Ethic is NOT:

- A global mono-religion or mono-culture.
- A new “ideology”.
- A substitute for religion.
- A substitute for a religious or philosophical ethic.
- A domination of one religion over all others.
